

Networking in Crewe

Why host a networking event?

- It brings together community groups (especially those who received grants from CTC over the last 2 years) and Health & wellbeing services (NHS, charities).
- Benefits Organisations, employers to showcase their projects and services.
- Networking offers opportunities for organisations to develop/deliver CSR where it will have the most impact across communities where it will be valued, future outcomes can be monitored, with reports shared.
- Flexible access – donations of time or skills sharing to suit your business. Opting to co-design any project of interest for optimum relevance to the needs of your organisation's priorities whilst still contributing to community
- Its allows public to see how CTC is supporting the communities of Crewe and also can be used to gain feedback from providers and the public their views on Crewe Voice and how this can be refreshed

Benefits of Networking

- Gain recognition for the organisation and enhance their reputation
- Gives organisations access to work with a series of inspiring partners from across all sectors
- Those that take part can gain new ways of thinking and fresh perspectives, new ideas, best practice, and tools to take away
- Visitors can enhance their employability opportunities
- Friendship with like- minded people can start

Facilitating

CTC could host the event, use of Crewe Market Hall or similar facility (previous events have been hosted in UTC, Jubilee House). Invite contributors link to Crewe Voice and recipients of CTC grants.

It would be one of the first public community events since pandemic and will show that CTC has supported groups during the pandemic and how it is continuing its support of community organisations and projects of need.
